

In Canto V of THE INFERNO, Francesca said to the Pilgrim Dante:

... "The bitterest woe of woes
Is to remember in our wretchedness Old happy times..."

In these immortal words the great poet of THE DIVINE COMEDY reminded us that the memory of past happiness is the one thing which makes our present troubles almost unbearable.